

Get the credit you deserve

Being part of the FMB can give you the mark of quality all professional builders deserve. As we only accept the industry's best, our members benefit from being able to partner up with other vetted professionals.

What's more, our accreditation encourages clients and customers to choose our members over others. Want to speak to someone? Call us on 0330 333 7777 or request a callback today.

Show you measure up

By joining us, you and your organisation will get the recognition you deserve to grow your business confidently. Our members tell us that the FMB accreditation delivers quality leads, projects and customers.

Example cross promotion

All our members like father and son roof thatchers Steve and Matty have to meet strict criteria before joining and committing to abide by a stringent Code of Conduct. Since February 2011 all members have had to pass an independent inspection on joining, and a program to inspect all existing members is now underway.
